

Alan Konrad – April 14, 2014

Just wanted to let you know....Joe Marshall called me a little while ago and told me that Alan Konrad passed away at 2:00 am on April 15, 2014. He was 86.

He had been suffering with dementia for the past 15 years and then on December 12, of 2013, he fell in the street there in New York and was taken to the hospital. He recovered enough to be sent to a nursing home, but then developed a kidney infection, so was sent back to the hospital. The infection was treated and he went back to the nursing home where he eventually passed away on April 15th.

He was cremated and Joe has his ashes, but he plans to sprinkle them near the skating rink in Central Park soon.

So sad. What a great person and performer he was. He and I used to laugh together at the Kim Sisters' antics. Wonderful memories
